

Dr. Hazen Miller's Book On The AuSable River Near Publication

A book on the history of the AuSable River, with connotations about Grayling, will be published on Friday, Sept. 27 in Grand Rapids. The author is Dr. Hazen Miller of Birmingham who spends a great deal of time in the Grayling area. Publishers of the book will be William Erdmans Company of Grand Rapids.

Dr. Miller has devoted a great deal of research on the book which will be profusely illustrated. He has talked to many people in and near Grayling gathering background material as well as delving into papers and books at the State Library and at the University of Michigan.

Throughout history, rivers have exerted an almost magical influence on man. This is no wonder, for they have often provided many of his elemental needs.

Michigan, America's Water Wonderland, owes its fame not only to its many great and small lakes but also to its charming rivers. Dr. Miller has done a real service to all who love regional history and folklore by giving a colorful account of the interesting people and events in the AuSable region in the northern part of the Lower Peninsula. He traces the region's history from the coming of the first white man, and the subsequent disappearance of the red man, through the lumbering days, up to the present.

Part of his interesting account deals with the indiscriminate logging of Michigan's virgin pine in the AuSable region. Here as elsewhere the logging industry gave birth to many towns; but when the last great pine had been ruthlessly felled, several of these towns died too.

The reader will be fascinated by the material this book contains, and will long remember it. It would not be surprising at all if he should decide to visit the beautiful AuSable and its historic regions.

It is expected that the volume will be on sale in Grayling, but for those who wish the book now, it may be obtained by writing the author, Hazen L. Miller, M. D., Medical Village, 31815 Southfield, Birmingham, Mich. "The Old AuSable" is priced at $4.95 per book.

The Frederic Fire Department has a new phone number, 348-9191. It was thought better to change it because so many false alarms had been received due to the fact that the old number was similar to so many others.

Northern Fishing Trip Again Very Successful

A group of eighteen men returned to Grayling on Saturday, Sept. 14, having enjoyed four and a half solid days of fishing at Camp Grayling in Saskatchewan, Canada, during which the fishing was better than ever, according to Clarence Roberts, organizer of the trip who has gone each year since the inception of the event four years ago. Those who made the trip were Officer Roberts, Otto Failing, Nels Olson and Stanley Madsen of Grayling, Delbert Walker of Mio, R. Laughrey, Corp. Joe Kolner, Ous Shepard and Richard Griswold of Flint, J. Henrich of Farmington, Frank Herzberg of Luzerne, Dr. Eugene Smith of Saginaw, Cal Brenner of Detroit, Herb Glidden and Robert Dodge and Gog Crane of Roscommon, Harry Prichard of Tonawanda, N. Y., and Gordon Wright of Higgins Lake.

The party left Grayling at 1:30 p.m. on Sept. 7, passed through customs at Houghton, Mich., and stayed overnight at Winnipeg, Manitoba. The following morning they left at 6 and arrived at Camp Grayling at 11:30, had lunch and then promptly went fishing. The group caught between 35 and 40 of the big lake trout. Corp. Joe Kolner of Flint took the biggest trout, Stanley Madsen took the largest grayling, and Clarence Roberts the largest pike. Officer Roberts also brought back a 21-inch grayling which will be mounted and presented to the crew of the atomic submarine "Grayling" when she is commissioned in 1966.

This is not a record fish by weight, but is a fine one as far as length is concerned. Dr. Eugene Smith of Saginaw probably got the continental record grayling, but made the mistake of gutting the fish, which weighed 3 lbs. 12 oz. gutted, and the largest this year recorded weighed 3 lbs. 1 oz. not dressed out. So he lost a fine opportunity.

Officer Roberts stated that this year's group was an exceptionally fine one, they were fortunate in having fine weather, and the fishing was tops. The men flew back by way of Uman City, The Pas, and spent the night in Winnipeg where they cleared customs. They went through customs again at Houghton, Mich., and arrived back here last Saturday.

Grayling Seniors Very Busy Over Weekend

The Grayling High School Senior Class members had a busy schedule of four fund-raising activities starting after school Thursday and ending Sunday evening at 10:30. They operated the A & W Root Beer Drive-In all four days, had a car wash on Saturday, a dance after the football game Friday and sold programs for the sports car races Saturday and Sunday.

The class wishes to thank Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Dopp of the A & W Root Beer Drive-In for permitting them to operate the stand, the men from the City St. Dept. for setting up barricades and attaching the hose for their use in washing cars, and Mr. Frank Bond and the Chamber of Commerce for the share given them in selling programs at the sports car races, also all who patronized them in their activities.

Approximately $370 was raised through the concerted efforts of all class members. The class would like to raise enough money this year to attend the World Fair in New York City.

Thus does the Center for Economic Expansion and Technical Assistance see itself after nine weeks in existence and set up to continue at least six years.

Operating in its first year on a $100,000 grant from the federal Area Redevelopment Administration, the center is dedicated formally Friday, Sept. 6 at Central Michigan University whose facilities it uses.

It aims, by providing "objective information and technical assistance" — and, sometimes, money for commercial management consultant services — to create new jobs and preserve existing ones in a 33 county region north of the Muskegon-Bay City line.

Myrt Riggs, President of the Northern Michigan Development Council, presided at the dedication meeting which was held in the CMU University Center.

"This is not a giveaway program," says center director Harold B. Sheppard. "We are not entering an agreement with those who help. We expect them to return to us whatever amount we have borne plus 5 per cent for a revolving fund to sustain the center's work."

He says the 5 per cent would come from increased sales, or business, resulting from assistance provided by the center.

The center was proposed by the Northern Michigan Development Council (NMDC), a private organ-

JOHNSON - ANDREWS VOWS EXCHANGED

A white lace and satin gown with ballerina length skirt was the choice of Miss Louise Anne Johnson for her marriage to Mr. Larry C. Andrews on Friday, Aug. 20, 1963. With it she wore a finger-length veil of illusion held by a braided nylon crown. Her flowers were a cascade bouquet of pink sweetheart roses and white chrysanthemums.

The ceremony was performed at 7 o'clock in the evening at the Neil Olson home at Lake Margrethe, the Rev. R. C. Puffer officiating. White gladioli and white chrysanthemums and the glow of white candles provided a lovely setting for the exchange of vows. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Carl Kobornik of Albion, sister of the bridegroom. Around thirty friends and relatives were on hand for the happy occasion.

Miss Johnson, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Johnson of Essexville, was given in marriage by Mr. Olson. Mr. Andrews is the son of Mrs. Grace Andrews of Grayling.

Mrs. Hans Andrews of Lowell, sister-in-law of the groom, was matron of honor. Her attire was an aqua crepe street length gown and she wore a corsage of white carnations.

Best man was the groom's brother, Hans Andrews of Lowell. A reception was held at the Olson home immediately following the ceremony. White gladioli and orchid colored mums graced the bride's table. Assisting Mrs. Olson with the guests was Miss Linda Haskell, who cut the wedding cake.

For the honeymoon trip, the new Mrs. Andrews chose an aqua cotton knit suit and black patent accessories. She is a February graduate of the Cadillac Mercy School of Practical Nursing, having graduated from St. John High School in Essexville. Mr. Andrews graduated from Michigan State U. with a B. S. degree in math in 1962, and returns to the university this fall to complete his masters degree.

For the present Mr. and Mrs. Andrews have been living at the Andrews cottage at the Danish Landing, Lake Margrethe.

Here to attend the wedding from out-of-town were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kobornik of Albion, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Nelson of Alma, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Nelson of Tawas City, Mr. Robert Nelson of Pontiac, and Miss Jo Dobson of Midland.

ization of civic leaders, which secured the grant and designated CMU as its agency for research and disbursement.

"We think we know this area, we have a responsibility to it and we'll give 100 per cent support to the center," said Dr. Judson W. Foust, CMU president, at the dedication.

Rep. Neil Staebler, D-Mich., said Michigan's economic growth requires a sound federal-state partnership. He noted that despite a year of prosperity "58 of our 83 counties are designated as distressed areas." He claimed that neither states nor federal government could solve "these economic problems alone."

The "distressed" areas include 29 counties of concern to the NMDC.

The center already has some 25 projects of technical assistance or research either pending, in progress, or completed, said Sommer. Because of their confidential nature they were described in generalities.

Industrial and community specialists, Hal Bell spoke of seeking ways to utilize waste from the wood industry. He also noted the inefficient link between the region's many small metal work plants and their supporting-type industries.

"Some metal plants go as far as 200 miles for supporting service," Bell explained. "They could be more efficient and more jobs would be created if the services were closer to home."

He also commented on the center's feasibility surveys.

"We've had certain types of business develop in our area that shouldn't have been there," said Bell. "They took a licking as did the community. I believe a survey that says 'no' to a possible new business attempt is as positive a service as one that says 'Yes'."

A. P. H. Murdock Jr., the center's tourism development specialist, said meetings are scheduled at Peabody, Atlanta, and East Tawas to determine how better to spread "tourism's" benefits over the full year.

Dr. Harold Sheppard, assistant administrator of the ARA assigned here temporarily, said the center is the first of its kind to become operative.

He compared its potential value in breaking industrial and community development bottlenecks to the long-established agricultural extension service through which America's food suppliers have prospered.

Technical assistance, he said, is the major factor in area redevelopment.

Dr. Harold Sheppard said the ARA in areas of economic retardation, "Can provide and channel millions in loan moneys before communities, but there must be a potential for expansion."

"This is where the center comes into play-giving technical assistance," he concluded.

Other speakers at the dedication included Dr. Woodward C. Smith, CMU vice-president; David O. Johnson, ARA project coordinator, and center research specialist Charles R. Owens.

Services of the Center for Economic Expansion and Technical Assistance are available to all industries and business in northern Michigan by applying for assistance directly to the Center. They will also be taken directly to the counties as rapidly as possible.

Presenters at the dedication from the Northern Michigan Development Council were the following: Myrt Riggs, Cheboygan, President; Les Biederman, Traverse City, vice-President; Dr. Charles L. Anspach, Mt. Pleasant, Secretary, and the following directors, B. D. Hilty, Traverse City, Orville F. Walker, Gaylord, Arthur Koller, Manistee, Charles Welsh, Roscommon and Frank Catto, Lansing. Others included State officials, ARA officials from Washington, Congressman Neil Staebler, as well as many from Michigan business, industry, utilities, transportation companies and various others.

intended receiver and landed right in Lucksted's arms who took it in 30 yards out. He again added the extra point on a kick. Grayling took a 21 to 7 spread. With four minutes to go in the game, Harrison intercepted a Viking aerial and after a series of downs, the Hornet fullback, Mike Darling plunged in for a score. Stocking added the extra point on a kick to leave the final score of Grayling 21, Harrison 14.

Grayling's team suffered but one severe injury that to Randy Thompson who received a twisted knee. Coach Don Ferguson said he thought that Thompson would probably miss Friday night's contest.

Offensively, Grayling got a good performance from Lucksted and Young, both who garnered All-State mention last year. Also quarterback Joseph's passing was excellent as was the receiving of end Steve Dawson who hauled in four out of four aerials. The Viking interior line was outstanding too, especially giving the passer that extra few seconds to spot and hit his receivers.

On defense, Robertson and Harney in the line turned in fine performances as did Lucksted at linebacker. Grayling's three defensive halfbacks were outstanding also. They are Mark Anderson, Curt Feldhauser and John Sarason.

SCHOOL BAND NEWS

On Sept. 10 the first band meeting of the year was held. The officers for the coming year were elected and plans were discussed for the coming year.

The new band officers are as follows: President, Pat McEvers; Vice President, Darlene Portwood; Secretary, Marie Scott; Treasurer, Christine Carlson and Student Council Representative, Cheryl Snock. Marjorie Johnson is our new attendance and award manager.

The band's first public appearance was at the football game Friday night. We were unable to put on a regular halftime show because as of yet we don't have a place to practice. We formerly used the site of the new grade school. The band would like to thank Fred Bear for showing and narrating his film and also the theatre and everyone who went to the movie of Fred Bear's Tiger hunt and helped contribute to new band uniforms. Thank you very much.

Pulling a safety message out of nowhere is just one of the many magician's tricks Police Sgt. Carl S. Pike used to emphasize important points of traffic safety to students.

Sgt. Pike presented his "Safety Magic" program at Grayling High Thursday afternoon, Sept. 12, 1963. Present on leave from the Kent County Sheriff's Dept., Grand Rapids, Mich., Sgt. Pike was a professional magician before entering police work. The program, which is on a nation-wide tour of schools, is sponsored by the American Trucking Associations, national trade association for the motor carrier industry.

Students at Grayling High a single hour of his performance. Sgt. Pike emphasizes that the slogan of his program is "Safety when they received a visit from a 'No Accident'."

He recounts his experiences with reckless drivers and tells his youthful audience how many accidents can be avoided.

Sgt. Carl S. Pike, presently on leave from the Kent County Sheriff's Dept., Grand Rapids, presented his famed "Safety Magic" show in Grayling, Mich., and other Michigan communities at the start of his tenth nationwide tour of schools under the sponsorship of the American Trucking Association.

The Michigan Trucking Association is co-sponsoring his 1963 Michigan tour.

More than four million teenagers have seen Sgt. Pike perform. A professional magician before entering police work, he combines his knowledge of magic with a keen sense of humor and experience gained as a traffic officer to put across his message of traffic safety to high school students.

Between bursts of laughter—as many state governments and police agencies.
